ENDORSEMENTS:

Join our rally on Sunday March 20, the the International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination

Demand:

- Stop the NT intervention - no to racism!
- Welfare rights for all - no income management
- Land Rights not Leases
- Real Jobs not BasicsCards

The Intervention has been three and a half years of racist shame. The Labor Government has continued and extended the Intervention policy towards Aboriginal people that was pushed through in the final days of the Howard era. When Rudd apologised the Stolen Generations in 2008, he promised that the mistakes of the past would “never, ever, happen again”. But they are happening all over again with the Intervention.

The Intervention was dependent upon the suspension of the Racial Discrimination Act (RDA), a clear example of its racist basis. Aboriginal Affairs Minister Jenny Macklin introduced new laws last year that she claims will “reinstate the RDA”. But this is a lie. Under the new laws all of the racist, draconian Intervention policies introduced by Howard in 2007 will remain in place.

These control measures will remain in place:

- Government Business Managers on Aboriginal communities
- Signing over Aboriginal land for 5-40 years before housing or services are offered
- Racist alcohol and pornography bans
- People will still not have access to the Racial Discrimination Act to challenge these measures

Demonstrate your opposition to these policies at our rally on Sunday March 20, 1pm Sydney Town Hall
